

Live – Remote Beginning Leader Accelerated Success Training (BLAST) for Cub Scout Leaders

You want to be a trained Cub Scout leader, but something gets in the way every time. Or maybe you just are a people-person and have trouble watching the Cub Scout Leader Specific training by yourself that is available on-line through your my.scouting training portal. The solution is here in a Live-Remote training opportunity called BLAST. Beginning Leader Accelerated Success Training (BLAST) gives you a new way to become trained for your Cub Scout position. This training is conducted over two-90 minute sessions and covers everything you need to know such as how the Cub Scout program works, what happens in a good committee meeting, where to find meeting plans, and what is a Den Doodle. Although taught remotely, this is taught by a real person ready to answer questions, demonstrate activities, and accelerate any Cub Scout leader to success. All you need is the ability to join a LifeSize conference call with video. You will learn:

1. How the Scouting structure is set up and what various positions do.
2. How to deliver den and pack meetings.
3. How to help Scouts live the Oath and Law in their meeting behavior.
4. Where to find resources to make Cub Scout leadership easier.
5. Shortcuts, tips, tools, and best practices for Cub Scout leaders.

The two-part class is scheduled over two consecutive Tuesdays, July 21 & 28th, from 7:00 – 8:30 pm.

Sign-up for this training to get the log-in information, receive resources that include the agenda, information used in the class, and materials that will be SENT TO YOU for this hands-on, remote training experience.

Attend both sessions to become fully trained. Register by Friday, July 10th to get the special hands-on materials sent in advance of the class. Registrations after that may not receive the mailed materials but will receive electronic resources.
